Army To Call 62,000 Enlisted Reservists In September, October

Unassigned Men To Face 21 Months Of Military Duty

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(AP)—The Army announced today it will call out 62,000 individual reservists during September and October, "with or without their consent," for 21 months of duty. They will come from a pool of about 185,000 enlisted male reservists who are not members of the Organized Reserve Corps units. They will be used primarily to bring the National Guard and Organized Reserve units to full strength.

The group to be called out consists only of enlisted men, not officers.

The first 32,000 will be in camp by September 15, the remainder by the middle of October, the Army announced today.

Those called first will be between 19 and 25 years old.

Priority will be determined by the number of dependents. Those with no dependents are to be called first. Those with one dependent, second, and those with more than one dependent later on.

This was the first time the Army has called up enlisted reservists who are not in units.

About 116,000 reservists who are in units, and whose units have not yet been called out, are exempt from the September-October call. Evidently it is planned to call them out as units.

Most of the enlisted reservists are veterans of World War II. The Army said that those members serving reserve enlistments for three to six years under the terms of the Selective Service Act of 1948 will be subject to call on the same basis as all other reserves. This group, which is part of the 185,000-man pool, includes men who served on active duty for less than three years after the war and then reverted to reserve status.

Quotas By Army Areas

The reserves will come from all parts of the nation. Quotas for army areas, which are about in proportion to the total strength of the Enlisted Reserve Corps in those areas, are as follows:

First Army (New York, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey) 9,416.

Second Army (Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware, Kentucky) 13,012.

Third Army (Georgia, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Florida) 5,467.

Fourth Army (Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico) 6,230.

Fifth Army (Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming) 18,406.

Sixth Army (California, Montana, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Utah, Arizona) 9,449.

Reservists first will be selected tentatively and ordered to their nearest medical facility for physical examination. Then they will return to their homes and be ordered to active duty when the physical condition has been found satisfactory. They will be given 21 days from the date of receipt of their orders to settle personal affairs before reporting to training divisions or reception centers.

Jaycees Need Cars For Baseball Game

Frank Diehl, Junior Chamber of Commerce Youth Week baseball trip chairman, stressed the need for transportation when the Jaycees met last night at their clubrooms.

The trip, to be made to the Cleveland-Detroit game Aug. 15, is an annual event and again this year the children's registration blanks are pouring in while the private car drivers are exceedingly lax in signing up.

More than 300 children have returned blanks signed by parents but only 21 drivers have indicated their willingness to transport the youths. An estimated 100 autos will be needed. Diehl said, "Some children must be left behind if cars cannot be secured."

The deadline for returning trip applications has been set for Tuesday. All drivers are requested to call Horace Schwartz at 4584 and register their car and the number of children they can take to the game.

A KISS, maybe the last, is given his son Michael, 3, by Pfc. Merrill Moore, member of the first Marine reserve battalions ordered overseas in the Korean conflict. Moore's wife, Virginia, holds Michael up to window in a Los Angeles station.

Truman Backs Present Cabinet

Reaffirms Faith In Acheson, Johnson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(AP)—President Truman's insistence that he will keep Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson in his cabinet indefinitely provoked new Republican blasts at Acheson today.

Mr. Truman announced at his news conference yesterday his solid backing for the two administration officials. Both have been under hot political fire in connection with charges of American unpreparedness for the Korean war.

The President also: 1. Demanded that the Senate reconsider a 65 to 15 vote earlier in the week directing a $100,000,000 loan to Spain. He was rebuffed within three hours by an identical vote reaffirming the decision.

2. Disputed the statement of his Senate leader, Senator Lucas of Illinois, that there won't be time in this session for action on the Hawaii and Alaska statehood bills.

3. Set Senator Tydings (D-Md.) down abruptly with the assertion that the armed services chairman was mistaken when he said the White House suggested that Edwin W. Pauley, former reparations commissioner, testify on Korea.

4. Announced he wouldn't withdraw two controversial nominations to the Senate almost certain to reject. 5. Said the question of sending a permanent diplomatic representative to the Vatican is under consideration. In the past, a number of Protestant churchmen have expressed opposition to any such move.

6. Affirmed that he will support the Democratic nominee for the Senate in Missouri—whether he is Emery Allison, whom he publicly backed in the primary, or Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., the probable victor in a count that is yet to be completed.

New Turnpike Route Protested

Cities Voice Objection To Cleveland Proposal

COLUMBUS, Aug. 4—(AP)—Five northern Ohio cities yesterday protested a request to route the state's proposed toll turnpike to within five and one-half miles of the Cleveland city hall.

The request, made by Cleveland officials, brought protests from civic and business interests in Akron, Canton, Medina, Elyria, Lorain and one labor union.

The Ohio Turnpike Commission heard the request and protests at a public hearing yesterday.

James W. Schocknessy of Columbus, commission chairman, set Aug. 15 for the next commission meeting and said a decision on the route of the proposed $250,000,000 superhighway would be made at that date.

He ordered consulting engineers who drafted the proposed route to study the alternate route sought by Cleveland and report Aug. 14.

Director James Lister of Cleveland's planning commission, backed by Mayor Thomas A. Burke and that city's chamber of Commerce, proposed this change in routing.

The Cleveland alternate would swing in an arc northward toward the heart of Cleveland, beginning at Streetsboro in Portage county and cutting back into the proposed route between Lorain and Elyria.

At its farthest point, the alternate would be 12 miles north of the present proposed line. The present proposed line runs 17½ miles at its closest point from Cleveland's city hall.

Mayor Burke said the alternate route would provide increased revenue to the toll highway because it would call for longer toll hauls by Cleveland trucks.

Korean War On U. N. Agenda For Today

Russian Attempt To Sidetrack Issue Defeated 3rd Time

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 4—(AP)—The United Nations Security Council comes to grips with the Korean war again today after beating down a three-day Russian attempt to sidetrack the issue.

The council voted 8 to 1 yesterday to take up as the first order of business today a United States resolution condemning North Korean defiance of the United Nations and asking all countries to help localize the conflict.

Amid bitter verbal exchanges the council twice again rejected Soviet attempts to put the question of seating Communist China in the U. N. first on the agenda.

Malik Raps U. S.

Russia's Jakob A. Malik, who ended his seven-month boycott of the U. N. to take over presidency of the council Aug. 1, predicted the vote with a vitriolic attack charging the United States with provoking the war in Korea.

U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin denounced Malik's charges as a new slander, a new threat, a new provocation. It was one of the most heated exchanges ever heard in the council chamber.

Austin said he doubted that the Soviet union wanted the council to go into "the question of whose design and whose command brought about the unleashing of this new wave of tragedy and bloodshed which has overtaken the international community."

"Inadvertently, he might expose the villain," the American declared.

Malik retorted that Austin was "hysterical and his hand wavings and shouting don't make any impression on me as a Soviet delegate. If he is trying to blackmail me he has directed his remarks to the wrong address."

Britain, France Object

British delegate Sir Gladwyn Jebb commented that Malik's "offensive and indeed irregular speech makes it completely clear that his government is determined to maintain what is the reverse of the truth."

Jean Chauvel of France branded Malik's charge of U. S. aggression in Korea "false" and added, "I repeat, it is false."

Malik also said the United Nations must choose between two paths "the path of peace and the path of war." He asserted the Soviet union and Generalissimo Stalin are the true leaders of peace.

Diplomats here wondered why Malik did not walk out yesterday after his series of defeats.

More support, meanwhile, was marshalled for the U. N. military effort in Korea. Panama offered training bases, use of her merchant marine, a contingent of troops and free transit across the isthmus.

Medical aid yesterday offered to send medical aid to U. N. forces fighting under Gen. MacArthur.

E. Liverpool Boy Found Strangled

EAST LIVERPOOL, Aug. 4—The search for a missing 13-year-old East Liverpool boy ended late Thursday night when his strangled body was found in a shallow cave near his home.

Police Captain Chester C. Smith said the victim is David Brant, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David Brant.

Police, aided by parents and neighbors, started a wide search after the ordinarily punctual boy failed to appear for the evening meal. The father found the boy's body—a length of clothes line pulled tight around his neck—in a narrow cave near his home.

Several playmates were asked to appear at police headquarters today for questioning. Captain Smith said the boy may have been killed accidentally in a "wild west" game.

Heat's Terrific, But Snowballs Still Fly

UPPER SANDUSKY, Aug. 4—(INS)—Snowball battles in August seem a bit out of order, but apparently anything is possible in this modern age.

Brice and Bill Mahaffey, 10 and 12, respectively and Mrs. W. W. Mahaffey, staged the battle yesterday—despite 90-degree heat.

Their proof—a banged up mouth and a bruised lip. The boys used snowballs made last winter and stored away in a food freezer.

House Rejects Wage, Price Curb Measure

Economic Control Bill Next; Gives Standby Powers To President

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(AP)—The House today junked its mandatory wage and price curb bill and started over on the job of writing an economic control measure.

The mandatory wage-price bill—providing for ceilings to go on automatically if living costs rise 5 per cent above the level of June 15—was denounced yesterday by President Truman. He called it an invitation for a five per cent rise.

The House threw it out on a standing vote of 172 to 161 on which the members were not recorded by name. The idea had been tentatively approved yesterday 159 to 128.

The action left before the house a controls bill providing only standby allocation and priorities powers for the President, authority to requisition war-needed materials, to grant production loans and to curb credits.

This bill, however, was subject to amendment to add wage-price controls.

The junking of the mandatory bill climaxed four days of House maneuvering in this order:

The banking committee sent to the House floor a bill providing only the limited controls Mr. Truman had asked—not including wage-price powers.

With Congress clamoring for some sort of wage-price controls, Democratic leaders offered a substitute providing power for Mr. Truman to slap ceilings on prices and wages, and ration goods, when and if he thinks those steps are needed.

By adoption of amendments, the House proceeded to rewrite the substitute. It voted for mandatory price-wage controls, limited all control powers to eight months, added a "buy American" clause, and forbade controls on commodity market speculation.

The result was something completely unacceptable to the Truman administration.

So today's vote tossed out the amended substitute and left the House back where it started—with the banking committee's bill.

The House began then to deal with proposed changes in the committee bill.

Railroad Crossings To Undergo Repairs

The Pennsylvania Railroad will repair and rebuild all six crossings in the city starting Aug. 14, it was decided at a meeting of city and railroad officials here Thursday afternoon.

The crossings are located in the west and south sections of the city at W. State, Pershing, Ellsworth, Mill, Wilson and Newgarden streets. B. J. Wallenius, divisional engineer of the railroad, told city officials the project would take about two weeks to complete.

Each crossing will require two or three days work. Meeting with the engineer were Mayor Harry M. Vincent, Curtis H. Vaughan, president of city council, C. E. Phillips, safety-service director, and Carl Abe, chairman of the council's streets committee.

THIRD SON FOR ACTRESS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4—It's three sons for Jeanne Crain now. The diminutive actress gave birth to seven-pound, six-ounce Timothy Peter yesterday. She and her husband, Paul Brinkman, furniture manufacturer, have two other boys—Paul Frederick, three, and Michael Anthony, 18 months.

City Reservoir Gains .6 Foot

Public Responds To Appeal To Conserve

The city reservoir gained six tenths of a foot of water Thursday as the result of the latest appeal issued by Mayor Harry M. Vincent and the water department for the public to cut down on consumption by 25 percent.

B. V. BeVier, water superintendent, today commended the customers on their cooperation to conserve water and curtail wastage. The industrial consumers especially have been practicing good housekeeping in their plants, he said.

It is hoped by the department to gain about a foot a day through the conservation program.

Repairs on the old city well on the property of F. S. Barkhoff, city engineer, were completed yesterday and at 2 p. m. it was put into operation, pouring additional supply into the system at an initial rate of 140 gallons a minute. The well is not expected to maintain that rate of flow but should give a supply of 100 gallons per minute, Mr. BeVier said.

Another abandoned well in the northeastern section of the city at N. Ellsworth and 12th st is now being repaired.

The improved amount of water from the standpipe on E. State st also has assisted in increasing the net reserve at the reservoir by 150,000 gallons.

Legion Band To Leave For State Convention

The American Legion band's convention headquarters have been moved to the Sterling Hotel at Prospect and E. 30th st for the two days of performances this weekend in Cleveland, Director George Chappell said.

In the final rehearsal last night before the competition with other Legion bands in the state, Chappell expressed confidence that the band would again bring honors to Salem.

The band will assemble at the hotel and leave at 1:30 Saturday for concert competition on Cleveland's downtown mall. The band will be in the second division of the parade at 2 Sunday.

Bandmen will leave Salem at 9:30 a. m. Saturday by bus for Cleveland.

600 Enemy Dead Are Counted On One Front

25th Infantry In Thick Of Fighting To Hold Vital Zone

TOKYO, Saturday, Aug. 5—(AP)—American forces battling to hold a tenuous line in South Korea stopped strong Communist units in their all-out drive for the few remaining miles to Pusan today. A U. S. counter-attack turned the battle.

General MacArthur's headquarters, in a summary at 12:10 a. m. (10:10 a. m. Salem time today) said 600 enemy dead had been counted on one front alone through Thursday.

The summary, some 24 hours behind front line reports, said 48 enemy tanks reported advancing to the battlefield turned out to be the hulks of burned-out machines abandoned along the road from Taegon to Chinju.

The original report of these tanks as a threat to the south came from briefing officers at MacArthur's headquarters Friday afternoon.

The heavy fighting for the western approaches to Pusan, U. S. base on the southeastern tip of the peninsula 40 miles from the battlefield, was near the village of Wonhung, 10 miles east of Chinju.

The U. S. 25th division bore the brunt of the attack. Marines and other U. S. forces were to the North.

Red artillery shells arched into U. S. First Cavalry positions near Taegu, 55 miles out of Pusan along the new Allied Nakdong River barrier line on the central front. A new battle was shaping up there.

Both sides punched and probed with men and tanks in the swirling battle. The Reds slipped to within 37 miles of Pusan at the village of Pongam, 18 miles east of Chinju. But an American regimental combat team erased the threat quickly.

American and South Korean lines above Chinju now are east of the winding Nakdong. But the extreme southern forces are south of the big streams and west of its delta, which is just outside of Pusan.

A Tokyo headquarters spokesman reported the North Koreans were pouring tank and infantry reinforcements to the southern battle sector.

Watch Troop Advances He said Red soldiers were coming into battle as recruits from Korean settlements in Soviet-dominated Manchuria. Many are Japanese-trained and veterans of the Chinese Communist wars.

Allied planes kept a sharp watch for troop trains heading down from the north. Some rail-borne reinforcements leaked out of Chongjin, in North Korea, under a smoke-screen covering the marshalling yard.

A column of 45 Russian-built tanks was reported speeding to the battle scene from the Taegon area, 90 miles northwest of Chinju.

Into this battle the 25th put all it had after a quick shift from the Kumchong area, to the north. The battered 24th was sent to another unidentified front when the 25th took over with expected marine and other reinforcements. The reinforcements were troops of the U. S. First Marines, the Second Infantry division and the Fifth Regimental combat team from Hawaii. The Marines have 47½ ton Pershing tanks, super-bazookas and flame-throwers.

Salem Gains Finals, Beating Portsmouth

Blasting their way into the state Junior Legion tournament finals, the Salem nine this morning walloped Portsmouth 11-3, thus avenging their defeat of Wednesday.

The locals rapped out 17 hits, while Bobby Theiss and Norm Birkhimer held the losers to three. Theiss worked seven innings and allowed only one safety.

At 9:30 Saturday Salem will go up against undefeated Gallon, with Bob Coy slated to pitch. Both he and Theiss are under the care of Ohio State coaches this afternoon, who are giving the two boys arm massages. Theiss will pitch the afternoon game if Salem wins in the morning.

Jim Coscare, Salem catcher, suffered a stove finger this morning and he is being treated by Hank Gowdy, old-time major league catcher.

Legion Builds New Kitchen

But Not Without Help
Of Auxiliary Members

THE KITCHEN, first room to be completed in the American Legion Post's building program, was the scene of busy activity recently when auxiliary members filled the cupboards with scrubbed and polished china and utensils.

Roy Faust was in charge of the remodeling work, while Verne Rich and William Needham, commander, headed the Legion group which did the sizing and some of the other kitchen work.

A yellow and white color theme was used for the room situated on the first floor next to the post auditorium. It has a completed set of 29 base and wall cabinets (Mullins) and 48-inch double sinks. H. E. Zepernick planned and made the installation.

The auxiliary secured an out-sized stove from a local restaurant. A steam table and other serviceable equipment complete the facilities.

Cost of this installation is estimated at $2,000—a fraction of normal retail value—made possible through donated labor and generously priced equipment.

Ebright Rips Lausche On Red Probe Stand

NEWARK, Aug. 4 — (AP) — Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy's request for authority to investigate Communist activities in Ohio drew approval from the Republican nominee for governor last night.

The nominee, State Treasurer Don Ebright, said Gov. J. Lausche's refusal to grant the request was a "grave mistake."

Lausche, a Democrat, will be opposed by Ebright in the November election.

In a speech before the Licking County Republican Club, Ebright declared:

"I am amazed at Gov. Lausche's quick snub of the attorney general's request for authority to probe Communist activities in Ohio. His quick decision is a grave mistake. He is dodging a tremendously important problem."

Gov. Lausche was out of town and could not be reached for comment.

Try Cherry Julep Mousse

THERE should be at least one very special dish for Sunday. Certainly, an unexpected dessert puts the festive note into the weekend and seems to make everyone a little happier.

So try this new mousse. It's made with a new fruit wine delicate with the flavor and fragrance of fresh cherries. For cake, shrub and jellied desserts it will give a welcome and refreshing new flavor.

Cherry Julep Mousse
(Makes one quart)

One cup cherry julep or concentrated cherry juice, juice of ½ lemon
¼ cup crushed cherries (fresh or canned)

20 marshmallows
1 cup heavy cream.

Heat cherry julep or cherry juice (150 degrees F.) and add marshmallows cut in pieces with wet scissors. Cool, add lemon juice and crushed cherries, and fold in cream, beaten until stiff. Freeze in refrigerator tray at regular temperature.

Sunday night supper can be a pleasant event especially if the family and friends are surprised with a particularly good main course salad. This one fills the bill:

Macaroni Mushroom Salad
(4 generous servings)

Eight-ounce package elbow macaroni
¼ cup finely diced green pepper
3-ounce can chopped broiled mushrooms
¼ cup well seasoned French dressing
¼ cup mayonnaise
Tablespoon minced onion
½ t. salt
¼ t. pepper
½ cup sliced radishes
½ cup diced unpeeled cucumber.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until barely tender. Drain well and place in suitable container. Add green pepper. Drain and add mushrooms, reserving broth for use in soup or gravy.

Add French dressing and mix well. Chill thoroughly. When ready to serve, drain off any excess French dressing.

Blend together and add mayonnaise, minced onion, salt and pepper. Add radishes and cucumber. Toss lightly but well and serve in bowl lined with crisp lettuce.

Factory Adds
Third ShiftWindow Sash Company
May Soon Make Doors

COLUMBIANA, Aug. 4—The F. C. Russell Co., maker of metal storm sash, has added a third shift in the press room of its plant at the western edge of town, and is now employing about 250.

There will be no more hiring until about October, when the company expects to increase the volume of production at its No. 2 plant here. Window sash only is made here, but doors are expected to be added to the output by that time.

The Bernard Lumber Co. of Youngstown is working on the foundation for the new 40x80-foot addition to the western end of the factory building. Plans for a new sewage disposal system are in the engineering stage.

THE COLUMBIANA Boiler Co. is planning to afford big trucks more convenient access to its plant on the south side of West Railroad st by widening the intersection of South Middle st on the north side of Railroad st. Recently the company acquired the vacant lot at the northeast corner of the intersection, across the street from its office location, and plan to cut back the curb at the corner.

Robert Lamancha, 31, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Lamancha, southwest of town on Route 164, continues unconscious in South-side Hospital, Youngstown, from injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident four weeks ago tomorrow. His physical condition continues to improve and the doctors expect his complete recovery.

Dr. C. M. Koch of Columbiana, who has been in a serious condition in Salem City Hospital following an operation for appendicitis, is improving.

Faces To Lose In

THE UNITED STATES has a big problem in Korea. Every American knows about it.

The United Nations has a problem, too. The U.N. could have been wiped out of existence had it not accepted the challenge of aggression against the republic of Korea, a state it sponsored. But, having accepted the challenge, the United Nations now must do something more tangible about it than hold Uncle Sam's coat.

Only the notion that the Kremlin is newly possessed of superior wisdom conceals the fact it has the biggest problem of all. U.S. intelligence agents know there is frantic mobilization in North Korea. They surmise that the Kremlin made a historic blunder; that it was caught short by the intervention of the United States, acting in behalf of the United States.

The price at stake in Korea is not territory. No one wants the land which belongs to the Koreans desperately enough to fight a major war over it, not even the Russians. They hoped to get it cheap, through a puppet government.

But U.S. intervention raised the price. More importantly, it jeopardized the real prize at stake in Korea—Asiatic prestige. The Kremlin's bid for a monopoly of prestige has been challenged by the one nation which never sought or held the privileges of empire in Asia. It has been challenged, moreover, in the name of an international organization which says there shall be no more empires built by military conquest anywhere.

The Soviet Union is in grave trouble over Korea. The trouble deepens with every addition to U.S. military power on that newly important peninsula, or anywhere else in Asia. The Asiatics, long accustomed to exploitation, are beginning to chuckle at the discomfiture of the Kremlin, which underestimated the opposition. The last time that happened was at the expense of the Japanese.

Get A Seahorse!

AS ONE who puts it, no one dreamed that the next stream U.S. voters shouldn't change horses in the middle of would be in Asia. But there is going to be a political reality of importance in this year's congressional elections. It may be of greater importance in the national election of 1952, when Mr. Truman presumably will be a candidate again.

The matter bears discussion now because of a situation developing in party politics. Once more it is being asserted by the ins that the outs should abandon their right to criticize; that in fact they owe it to the country to keep their eyes, ears and mouths shut lest it be revealed that all is not well here, there and everywhere.

This will make no impression on Republicans, fortunately. And it should make no impression on anyone. The fact is that the United States has been admonished not to change horses while crossing a stream since the national election in 1932. And has obeyed the admonition. But instead of crossing a stream, it has been drifting in an ocean.

When the ins start screaming about the folly of changing horses in midstream the next time, they should be reminded that the United States is not crossing streams any more.

The country is adrift, with water everywhere. It's not a matter of changing horses in 1950 but of finding a way to get to shore.

Harry's Strategic Location

FEDERAL action to revoke the $25,000 bond which has given Harry Bridges the run of the country may tell the story of internal security for the few months immediately ahead.

Bridges was convicted last spring on a charge of perjury and conspiracy growing out of his failure to remember when applying for citizenship papers that he once had belonged to the Communist party. He is out on bond pending preparation of an appeal. His lawyer claims the case hasn't been prepared yet.

But not only is Bridges out on bond. He is using all the influence at his command to cripple the United States in its efforts to check aggression against the republic of Korea. He is making it plain that his sympathies do not lie with America, which is not unusual for him but is somewhat tactless under the circumstances. As leader of longshoremen on the West coast, he could tie this country's Pacific shipping in knots, a prospect which anti-Communists in his union already have recognized. They are trying to tie his hands before he can get into mischief. The Department of Justice is trying to do the same thing.

If they succeed, the showdown with the Harry Bridges of this country will have a happy ending. If they fail, the trouble that has been brewing over coddling Communies in America will soon begin to bubble over.

There is little contentment to be found by people who are contented to remain discontented.

ECA In New Role

By PETER EDSON

Emphasis Is Put On Military Side

AN ENTIRELY NEW role for the Marshall Plan Economic Co-operation Administration is emerging as a result of the Korean war. For its first two and a half years, ECA's main job has been to build up the civilian economy of Western Europe. It has concentrated on building up European productive capacity and foreign trade position.

But now that international communism has shown its real hand and its intent to settle things by shooting, instead of by propaganda, Europe will have to step up its arms production.

ECA's goal up to now has been to bring Europe's exports and imports into balance by June, 1952. This would make Europe more or less self-sustaining and reduce its need for dollars. That done, the Marshall Plan could be liquidated.

If Europe is forced to go in for greater arms production, however, the picture will be changed. It will have to curtail its production of consumer goods for export. That will cut down its dollar-earning capacity. And the dollar gap, instead of closing, will open wide again.

As a matter of fact, ECA has been shifting some of its effort from civilian to military production, during the past few months. In the original European military assistance program requested by President Truman a year ago, there was an item of $155,000,000 to help increase European arms production. This was cut out in the Senate, for reasons that were never quite clear.

ANYWAY, defense planners hit on another means of achieving the same end, through ECA. A fund of $100,000,000 was set up for what became known as AMP—Additional Military Production. It was under the general administration of Edward J. Dickinson, who was recently made executive officer for the joint secretaries of Army-Navy-Air Force organization.

The way this fund was handled was that if—say, a Swedish anti-aircraft gun manufacturer needed additional machine tools to carry out a contract, the ECA-AMP group would see that the necessary priorities were given to insure delivery.

One other development which is giving ECA a bigger role in the European rearmament picture is the possible use of what are known as "counterpart funds" to increase arms production.

When U. S. Marshall Plan supplies are furnished European countries, they are sold by their governments through private trade channels. Each country takes payment in its local currency, and this money goes into the counterpart fund.

ECA has a control over how these funds are spent. In the main, they have been channeled into increasing the productive capacity for needed civilian supplies. From here on out, a greater proportion of these counterpart funds will be employed to increase European arms production.

STILL ANOTHER shift in ECA policy has been to increase its missions in southeast Asia, so as to help prepare that area against Communist aggression. Money for this effort has come from $150,000,000 originally allocated for the China mainland, but unspent there because of the Red conquest of Nationalist China. Congress has authorized spending of these funds in the general area of China.

Thus while there has been some inclination to write off the Marshall Plan and bury it as a dead duck, since the Korean war broke out, the real story seems to be that it will merely change the character of the job that ECA has been doing.

ECA has built up confidence in Europe and it has a good reputation in Washington, among other government agencies. There have been congressional proposals that ECA be given the job of administering the Military Assistance Program, or that it be converted into a kind of economic warfare agency.

Administrator Hoffman has stuck to his original idea that ECA should be liquidated on time, at the end of its four-year span of life. Any premature killing of the agency, however, or slashing of its funds because of the Korean war, might have a disastrous effect.

Last Chance

By TRUMAN TWILL

A FRIEND of ours was let down hard a few days ago when he turned up too late to throw out the first ball in a crucial game, after officials had invited him to perform the ceremony.

He was flattered by the invitation, he explained—so flattered he practiced throwing green apples for 10 days in his back yard, to make certain he would give a creditable performance. He used a clothesline post for a target.

When he found the game he was supposed to throw out the first ball for already in progress, he was lower than a blown-out tire. Chances are that at his advanced age, he points out, no one ever will ask him to throw out a first ball again. He missed his big chance.

We tried to comfort him by relating some similar experiences. Such as the time we went to the kid party where the big game of the evening was postoffice and no one asked us to play, in spite of the fact we had been extra-generous with the shaving lotion and hair tonic.

Also the hours we spent in high school and college practicing the knack of receiving kick-offs in the remote event the kickoff ever came our way in a football game, then when it finally did come our way one gusty November afternoon the ball slipped through our arms and through our legs and was recovered by the enemy.

And the party we went to, after boning up on a lot of subjects which seemed likely to be mentioned so we could amaze those present with the depth and breadth of our knowledge—and the only subjects mentioned were things we never had heard of before.

And the banquet at which we were to be called on to say a few words, extemporaneously of course, so hours were spent on a few extemporaneous remarks which would sound snappy—and the toastmaster never got around to calling on us for what undoubtedly would have been the highlight of the occasion.

Also the special guests who had been invited to come to dinner and didn't show up because it was their understanding that the dinner was tomorrow night, instead of tonight—and there we were with all the preparation and nothing to do about it except waste it and repeat the performance 24 hours later.

And the big scene in the class play where we were going to hold the yokels spellbound and give them something to talk about for months to come—but the fathead who was supposed to give us the cue got mixed up in his lines and cut us out of our moment of glory.

And all the group photographs we have elbowed into, mugging the camera, flashing our teeth and saying "Cheese" so we would look pleasant, only to learn later that our face either didn't show up, or was so hideous it was painted out of the picture.

But none of these experiences provided any comfort for our friend who missed his chance to throw out the first ball in a ball game. "You should see all those apples," he moaned. "I gotta rake 'em up before I can mow the lawn."

Back to Logistics

THE armchair strategist's favorite military expression, "logistics," is coming back into use. The Korean war is logistics with a vengeance.

An army officer in Washington has revealed these facts about moving men and supplies to Korea under "ideal conditions":

It takes a minimum of 44 days to move a division of troops and materials—12 days to pack and load 19,000 men and 4,000 vehicles; 7 days to load on a ship, 18 days to get the ship to Korea and 7 days to unload at a Korean dock, provided a dock exists.

A division needs 35,000 measurements tons of 40 cubic feet each. Its equipment weighs 18,000 tons, but 7 measurement tons must be sent along for each soldier to meet his needs for the first month. Thereafter one measurement ton must go to Korea for each day's support of every man.

Sec. Johnson Is The Scapegoat

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON
THERE IS a palpable effort to make Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson the scapegoat for America's unpreparedness today.

That's the easy, superficial, careless way. It tends to obscure realities. For the truth is the Congress of the United States is primarily responsible for the debacle in Korea.

The Constitution imposes on congress these duties:

"To raise and support armies...
"To provide and maintain a navy."

"To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces."

If America is unprepared today, the blame cannot be placed merely on just one or two individuals in the executive branch of the government—either the President or the secretary of defense. They have a responsibility, of course, but if either or both of these officials was wrong in taking the advice of those who drew up a military concept of strategy based only on a strategic bombing war in Europe, then it was the duty of the legislative branch of the government to check those policies and make final judgment.

WHAT DID CONGRESS do during the controversy last year concerning reductions in the navy, or the withholding of funds for the air force or the need of the army for tanks and tactical aviation? The house armed services committee, led by representative Carl Vinson of Georgia, Democrat, did a faithful job of checking on what the executive agencies were doing. The house committee did more—it conducted public hearings and listened to witnesses who cried out against a concept of strategy which took into account only one kind of warfare.

What did the senate do? Here was the biggest fall down. Here is where the real checking should have been done, because the senate is recognized as the more powerful and influential body of the two. The senate, however, depended on its armed services committee. This is headed by Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland, Democrat, who studiously avoided any serious check-up or investigation.

With his colleagues, he repeatedly steered away from the controversy over preparedness which raged in the house committee last autumn. He intervened only to coerce the house armed services committee and military men generally by threatening, in effect, to hold up the legislation providing for military pay increase unless the navy and the army officers knuckled under and accepted Tydings' "unification" plan. Thus far this plan has served only to weaken the defense structure.

ALL DURING the time that expert witnesses were telling the house armed services committee that the United States lacked tactical aviation units for the army, lacked tanks and lacked naval aviation, the senate armed services committee was looking the other way—trying to avoid what it called a controversial subject.

At one time Chairman Tydings said he didn't think the senate should inquire into the controversy raised over the matter of naval aviation and Marine corps strength and B-36's because this was being done by the house—as if the senate could thus abdicate its responsibility to investigate vital matters of national defense policy.

Before the "unification" propaganda sold the country the idea that the next war could be won in a few days by air power alone, the congress had a separate committee for the army and a separate committee for the navy in each house. Now each has only one armed services committee. Hence it was more important than ever that during 1949 and 1950 the senate armed services committee should not have shirked its task.

This same committee has just appointed several subcommittees to watch the defense effort. Nothing apparently is being done to investigate the past failures of the committee itself. Nothing is being done by the congress to find out why its system of checking on defense matters broke down. Nor is anything being done to establish a method of censuring those committee members who neglected their duty to the people of the United States in 1949 when the die was cast to forget tanks and tactical aviation and to cut naval aviation.

THE SYSTEM in Congress needs to be changed. There should be a joint committee of both houses and equal representation of both political parties, so that such things as Senator Tydings' clever whitewash of Secretary of Navy Matthews when he punished Admiral Denfeld for telling the American people the truth about their defenses will not be ignored by the senate itself.

The present system is such that, unless Senator Tydings brings to the attention of the senate itself problems related to military affairs, they do not get much consideration by that body. There is no partnership of interest under the present system and a committee chairman can squelch any inquiry he wishes to squelch. That's why it's unfair to single out Secretary Johnson as the only one to blame in the present mess.

Home To Them

By HAL BOTLE

Pilots Like Their Fields

IN KOREA
THE ONLY people I know who love airfields are pilots.

To an outsider, most airfields look alike. But they hold personalities of their own to the men who wheel planes through the skies. Just what the difference between them is, I have never been able to find out.

An airport, to me, is just a control tower, a windsock in the breeze and broad strips of safety on which I can land and again feel mother nature welcome me through my feet.

But airfields are homes to the fliers. They like to adventure through the cloud-filled pastures of space. Once they fliers. They like to adventure through the base and shoot the gossip with the other boys. It's hard to get them to drive out and see what the towns are like that the airbases are built to serve. To them, the airport itself is a complete city.

And certainly this most advanced airstrip is a wonderful and complicated community. It sends out fighter planes to deal death to the enemy and it receives our own battle-wounded and flies them out in comfort to a general hospital in Japan.

IT IS ALL DONE so casually and competently that a stranger could wander across the field and never know what was going on.

This airstrip lies in a valley surrounded by hills that would be called mountains in the Ozarks of Missouri and Arkansas—but just humps in Colorado.

It is much like Tadmor, the famous World War II crossroads airfield outside Oren in Africa. When the sun shines it is hell swept by dust. When it rains you can take a dozen steps and the mud on your feet will weigh more than your shoes.

It is a pioneer village, built out of the sand for immediate close support of the ground troops. The ground crews and fliers live in tents adjoining the field. An air control plane and the F-51 fighter planes it directs to enemy targets can fly to the enemy front lines in 20 minutes or so.

Sometimes transport pilots from bases in Japan fly in a welcome case of beer for their buddies in combat.

But there is no pumping of anybody. Often a flier who has made three missions to the front in a day comes home weary at night to find the mess hall closed. They don't open it up again for him. He eats out of a can and hits the sack—worn out.

IT IS STRANGE but true that the fliers of the modern war are often older on the average than infantrymen. In the second world war it was more the other way around.

You see many doughboys, for example, between 18 and 20 years of age. But these men in the transport plane crew that flew me here a week ago are all married, and among them have ten children.

They are the pilot, Capt. L. N. Mike of Topeka, Kan.; co-pilot, Capt. Doran Kelly, Vallejo, Calif.; and the crew chief, Master Sgt. Arthur L. Erickson, of Denver, Colo.

Capt. Mike has three girls and a boy. Capt. Kelly and Sgt. Erickson have three children each.

Capt. Kelly recently served as pilot for "That's right," said Erickson cheerfully. "And I'm going to keep right on looking. I have something to come home to."

Farmers' Income Off 7 Percent For Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Farmers took in $12,900,000,000 during the first seven months of 1950—a drop of seven percent from the same period in 1949—the Agriculture Department said today.

In July, however, prices received by farmers rose slightly for the first time this year.

Due to the Korean war and other developments it is expected in some quarters that this increase in prices for farm goods will continue. The department, however, made no prediction as to the future.

Farmers' cash receipts from marketings dropped sharply in 1949 compared with the banner year of 1948. This decline has continued through this year.

Recent increased prices to consumers, however, are expected to result eventually in increased returns to the farmer.

Settlement Attempted As 600 Miners Quit

STEUBENVILLE, Aug. 4.—Officials of the Hanna Coal Co. said today they were attempting to arrange a meeting to settle an unauthorized walkout of 600 miners at the Piney Fork mine.

James Ault of the Hanna Co. said members of the United Mine Workers left work yesterday.

They had complained, he said, because strip mined coal from the company's Georgetown mine in Harrison county was brought to Piney Fork for washing and processing while Piney Fork operations were suspended for lack of coal cars.

Union Boycott Declared Legal

NLRB Makes Decision In Hoover Co. Case

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board, in an unprecedented decision, has ruled that a consumer boycott organized in 1948 by a union was legal under the Taft-Hartley Act.

By a 4-0 vote the board held yesterday that the Hoover Company, which makes vacuum cleaners at North Canton, O., committed unfair labor practices when it fired the whole 12-man executive board of the union.

The company was ordered to offer the 12 men their old jobs and make up any wages they may have lost.

The union was Local 709 of the United Electrical Workers, a national union which was in the CIO at that time but has recently been expelled.

Local 709 started the boycott in July 1948 during a strike at the North Canton plant. It sent teams to other locals urging their members not to buy Hoover products. The strike ended Aug. 2.

When the company suspended the 12 leaders, the union refused to call off the boycott. The company then discharged the men on Aug. 30.

Meantime another union, the Hoover employees committee, won an election in the plant and was certified by the NLRB on Aug. 24 as the only bargaining agent of the workers.

One argument made by the company was that the boycott was unjust and disloyal. The board said "this well may be true," but that it couldn't measure the boycott in those terms.

FIRM AWARDED CONTRACT

COLUMBUS, Aug. 3—(AP)—A Columbus electrical contracting firm said yesterday it has been awarded a $7,374,000 government contract for construction work on an Atomic Energy Commission project at Oak Ridge, Tenn. ### Toy Balloons Used To Keep Away Noisy Birds

WILLARD, Aug. 4—(AP)—Toy balloons are being used here—reportedly with success—to drive away noisy starlings and blackbirds.

The multi-colored balloons are tied with long string to the top of trees where the birds roost at night. So far, the balloons have kept them away.

Previously, shotgun blasts, firecrackers, scarecrows and smoke had been tried without success.

OPINION—GOSSIP—NOTES—

YESTERDAY'S STARS: Batting—Vic Wertz, Tigers — Doubled with bases loaded to drive in first two runs of four-run blast against Ed Lopat in first inning of Detroit's third straight over Yanks, 5-2.

Pitching—Art Houtteman, Tigers—Stopped Yankees with six hits for third straight win, boosting league lead to 2½ games.

By BOB DIXON

DISA AND DATA: With more and more observers climbing on the Indians' bandwagon, it's comforting to note the Tribe's September schedule.

• As in 1948, the Indians have a predominately home slate for the last month of the season. Fifteen of their last 17 games will be played at the Stadium.

• That group includes a visit by the eastern contingent of the league, an invasion which will probably settle the whole race.

• Salem has a representative in the Northern Ohio Senior tennis tournament at Lakeside this week in Gordon Scott. He's played in the tournament several times.

• This year he is teaming with Bob Thompson of Youngstown, a former Salem resident, in the doubles event. The two are rated a good chance to win the championship.

• In case the Salem American Legion post hasn't thought of it yet, there should be some kind of a big welcome thrown for their Junior Legion baseball team when it returns from Columbus.

• Win or lose, the Legion kids have done a magnificent job this season. Their performance at Columbus has certainly been remarkable.

• We'd like to see them get the recognition they deserve from Salem's baseball fans. They've put the community on the map this summer.

• The fans helped out a lot last Saturday when the Legion staged a "tag day" to help pay the team's way to the state tournament.

• Needing an estimated $200 to finance the boys' way, the Legion collected $289 during the all-day downtown drive. The post feels that amount will be enough for the week-long trip.

• Bowling addicts are already beginning to anticipate the coming season, which is still 40 days away. Activity will probably begin on the night of Sept. 11.

• Some keggers are making regular trips to the air-conditioned alleys in East Palestine, just to keep their thumbs in shape.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER

IN SOME respects the boxing racket has improved in recent years no matter what I may think about it.

Ray Robinson's defense of his world welterweight championship against Charlie Fusari at Jersey City, N. J. next Thursday night is an example of improved thinking on the part of our leading blood-letters.

In addition to giving his entire purse — except that one lonely buck — to the cancer fund, Robinson is doing his own personal utmost to help put the show over. Fusari is contributing to the charity and the promoters are joining in by giving the fund a cut of the gate.

This, therefore, is about as near to a genuine charity show that you are likely to find, and not one of the kind that prevailed in the not too long ago, when often the fighters and promoters took all the money and left the charity scuffling to break even.

Aside from the charity aspects of the show, these two should put on a good battle — and it may be closer than you think.

Robinson is the big favorite as he justifiably should be considering that he is one of the greatest fighters of these or any other times.

But how good he will be in taking off solid left to get down from well above 150 to the division limit of 147 is the thing that can make this a tough fight for the champion.

Fusari had Rocky Graziano pretty well whipped through their memorable fight of last summer, then ran into one of Graziano's widely-flung haymakers in the last round. He looked great until he lost with a win in his grasp.

He is a legitimate 147-pounder, reasonably young, experienced, game, and will be in top shape for Robinson, these things we know.

Whether we get a new champion or the old one goes right along as he has for so long, Andy Neiderreiter, the guiding genius behind the event has put together a good show. And Robinson fighting for one dollar makes it something worth looking at, too.

SUNOCO TEAM WINS

The South Side Sunocos won their seventh victory of the year, stopping the Red Caps 4-3 Thursday evening at Copacina's field. They remain undefeated in league play.

Ruth May led the Red Caps with two hits, while Stoffer, Pope and Willia of Sunoco each had a pair.

Tuesday night the Red Caps meet Leetonia.

MANAGERS TO MEET

Joe Kelley today called a meeting of all Class AA and A league managers for 7 Saturday night in the Memorial building to discuss plans for the annual All-Star softball game and the Shaughnessy playoffs.

Dave Koslo, veteran southpaw pitcher, is the oldest member of the Giants in point of service. He pitched when Bill Terry managed.

The New York football Yanks have 22 backs in their Ripon, Wis., training camp.

Salem Team Gains Legion Semi-Final Round

Win Two Games Friday 7-5, 2-1

Play Portsmouth Again In Morning Tilt Today

By virtue of two brilliant victories Thursday, Salem's fighting Junior Legion baseball team this morning went into the semi-final round of the state Legion tournament against Portsmouth.

Yesterday Chet Brautigam's team swept by and eliminated Zanesville 7-5 in a morning game and Dayton 2-1 in the afternoon.

Portsmouth defeated the locals Wednesday 6-3, in a game which was marred by Salem errors. Their only loss came at the hands of Galion 7-3.

Thursday, Zanesville, Defiance, Dayton and Cincinnati were eliminated.

Thus, Salem has already played five games and must play three more to win the championship. Galion, on the other hand, has played but four times and can win the tourney by winning one more game. Two defeats eliminate a team.

Against Zanesville Bobby Theiss chucked five hit ball and won 7-5 despite three errors by his teammates. Salem collected seven hits.

In the afternoon tussle, Bob Coy went back into the box and won a tight game which was scoreless until the seventh inning.

The locals were outthit by Dayton 9-7, but Coy scattered the blows evenly.

It is likely Brautigam will come back today with a triple and single. If he wins, Coy will probably get the nod Saturday morning against Galion.

Johnny Votaw spelled the difference in the Zanesville game. He slapped out a triple and single and was safe on an error and scored three runs. Theiss pitched good ball, striking out 11 and walking only four.

Zanesville's errors were costly. In the fourth inning, the first three Salem batters were safe on errors and all three scored on a balk, a fly to center and an infield out.

Coy pitched the best game of his career and also scored both Salem runs.

He doubled to lead off the Salem half of the seventh and successive singles by Baird and Oesch brought him in. With two out in the eighth, Coy was safe on a bad throw by Stagg, the third baseman. Cosgarea's single followed to score Coy with the winning run. Coy walked three and struck out nine.

In the second inning, Baird walked and Oesch forced him at second. With Oesch on first and two out, Tommy Boone lined a long (would be) home run over the right fielder's head but Oesch failed to touch third base when he came around causing neither run to count.

Indians Seek To Bury Yanks

Feller Gets First Try At Faltering Champs

(By The Associated Press)

MANAGER Lou Boudreau's Cleveland Indians start another "crucial" series tonight, this time with the New York Yankees who are smarting from three straight lickings in Detroit.

By playing at a 706 clip since mid June, the Tribe has pushed itself into the contender's position, two and a half games behind leading Detroit and a half game ahead of third place New York.

If the Indians are to stay with in easy striking distance of the leading Tigers, they are going to have to lift the current series from a team which should be tired of losing when the chips are down.

So far this season, New York has won seven of the 13 games the Yanks and Indians played. The 14-5 and 12-4 beating the Yanks handed out in a May 21 doubleheader here still rankle the Tribe. And that although the Indians plastered New York, 16-2, on June 6.

Boudreau named Bob Feller to pitch the opener against New York's Vic Raschi.

Feller, who has a 10-7 record, has beaten New York twice and lost once. He won, 3-2, on June 5 and on June 22 by 6-2.

SINCE MID June the Indians have won 36 and lost 15 to compile their .706 average. Over that same time, the Yankees have won 26 and lost 21 for a .556 average.

Boudreau plans to pitch Early Wynn Saturday and Bob Lemon Sunday.

Other New York starters have not been announced yet, but there is a good chance Ed Lopat—the Tribe nemesis—will get into the series. Lopat, who was knocked out in the first inning yesterday at Detroit, has beaten the Tribe four straight times.

Art Houtteman, forced to pass up his regular turn because of a strained side muscle, did a job on the challenging Yankees yesterday. When Art got through, New York was challenging for second place, not first. And Detroit's lead measured 2½ games. The Yankee boom is all but dead. Cleveland, moving into second place, is the new threat.

FOUR RUNS in the first inning tucked the game away for Detroit. Ed Lopat, shooting for his 14th win, got only one man out. He gave up four runs on three hits, a walk and his own error. Fine relief work by Fred Sanford and a passing-fair job by Joe Page were too late. The final score was Detroit 5, New York 2.

The only other action in the American had little to do with the pennant race as sixth-place Chicago shut out seventh-place Philadelphia, 1-0. Randy Gumpert, hitting his stride after a slow start, blanked the A's with only four singles.

Rain slashed the National League schedule, washing out a Pittsburgh-at-Brooklyn day game and a Cincinnati-at-Philadelphia night game. As Chicago and New York were not scheduled, that left only St. Louis and Boston.

Vern Bickford, the Braves' brilliant righthander, came up with his second straight four-hitter for a 5-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. The triumph boosted the Braves into second place, three games back of the leading Phillies.

The 1950 Michigan State track team smashed 12 varsity records during the season, seven indoor and five outdoors.

Zines Pitches No-Hit Game

Beats Demings 6-1; Hub Defeats Vets 7-4

Johnny Zines' first no-hit game in a blue moon set down the Deming team Thursday night at West End Park by a 6-1 count. The Amvets rapped five hits off Kenny Brudery to tighten their hold on fourth place.

The Hub jumped back into second place over Demings by beating the V. F. W. 7-4. They lead the Pumpmakers by a full game.

In Class A League play, the Saxons pulled into a tie for first place with a 6-3 victory over Fisher News, while City Sporting Goods thumped the Men About Town 15-6.

Zines' no-hitter was more remarkable since he has recently been sidelined with a shoulder injury, which only a week ago was cured.

The Hub wrapped up their game with a six run surge in the fourth inning. They knocked out nine hits and Dave Ehrhart gave the V. F. W. six.

Although the Saxons got only three hits they still beat Fishers, who had eight. Two errors by the Amvets didn't help.

September May Be Busy Boxing Month

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—(AP)—Looks like a busy fall season in the boxing business with three title bouts in the works for September.

Sandwiched between the Willie Pep-Sandy Saddler scrap Sept. 8 for the featherweight crown, and Joe Louis' Sept. 27 comeback against Ezzard Charles, we'll probably have a middleweight championship fight.

Detroit and Montreal are interested in a Jake La Motta-Laurent Dauthuille bout for the 160-pound crown now that chances of matching La Motta with Ray Robinson this fall are dim.

Robinson has a date Wednesday in Jersey City to risk his welter crown against Charlie Frazier. Then he has a once-postponed scrap with Jose Basora at Scranton, Pa., probably Aug. 23.

A Charles-Louis bout is not signed yet. It all hinges on Charles' ability to get past Freddie Besore of Harrisburg, Pa., in a NBA-heavyweight championship match at Buffalo, Aug. 15.

Charles is working in Cincinnati for his first start since he was given the green light by the doctors. He hasn't fought since he knocked out Pat Valentino in California last October.

Ohio-Michigan Game Tickets About Gone

COLUMBUS, Aug. 4—(AP)—Tickets for the Nov. 25 football game between Ohio State and Michigan are near the sell-out point, three days before the general public gets a chance at them.

J. Edward Weaver, ticket sales director at Ohio State, said yesterday that about 1,350 individual box seats may be available for the public when general sales opens Monday. But these seats are beyond the goal posts.

Here's where most of the other tickets for the stadium's 78,400 seats will go:

Ohio State students 18,000 season books; Ohio State benefactors and alumni 20,700 season books; priority holders 750 season books and 14,500 individual tickets; University of Michigan 11,000 tickets and last-minute emergencies 1,500.

This leaves 5,650 tickets, based on the stadium's seating capacity. But Weaver said 2,000 applications are in the mail to previous buyers of tickets. They are allowed up to four season books of Michigan tickets.

Davis Cup Tryouts To Help Choose Team

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—(AP)—A series of singles "tryout" matches the week before the Davis Cup tennis finals of Aug. 25-27 may help solve the tough problem of choosing the U. S. team.

Eleven players, including veterans Ted Schroeder, La Cresenta, Calif.; Billy Talbot, New York, and Gardner Mulloy, Coral Gables, Fla., were named yesterday by the U. S. Davis Cup selection committee to try for the four berths on the squad.

Rounding out the group of aspirants are Budge Patty, Los Angeles, New Wimbledon champion who spends much of his time in Europe; Tom Brown, San Francisco; Herbie Flam, Beverly Hills, Calif.; Art Larsen, San Leandro, Calif.; Sam Match, San Francisco; Richard Savitt, Orange, N. J.; Victor Seixas, Philadelphia, and Tony Trabert, Cincinnati.

Trabert is in the round of eight in the quarter-final singles matches in the eastern grass court championships at South Orange, N. J.

The Washington Redskins of the National Football League went from Sept. 28, 1941, to Dec. 10, 1944—a string of 44 games—without being shut out.

WINNER REWARDED—Ken Fysh, of Berlin, N. H., winner in Midsummer ski meet at Laconia, N. H., receives trophy from Betty Laurie, of Concord, "Miss New Hampshire of 1950."

STEPLADDER—Fans prepare to move over for Bruce Edwards as the Brooklyn catcher uses the batrack as a stepladder chasing a foul ball he can't reach at Ebbets Field.

Bob Lemon of the Cleveland Indians was the first American League pitcher to beat every rival team this season.

Oldest player in camp with the New York football Yanks is Chet Adams, 33-year-old tackle who probably will do most of the team's place-kicking in 1956.

Babe Zaharias Paces Tam O'Shanter Field

CHICAGO, Aug. 4—(AP)—The fabulous Babe Didrikson Zaharias, displaying the golf wizardry that has vaulted her to the top in women's competition, and Jimmy Clark, a comparative unknown, shared the spotlight in the opening rounds of the Tam O'Shanter golf carnival.

The Babe, voted outstanding woman athlete of the half century in the Associated Press poll, broke the Tam course record with a six-under-par 70 yesterday in the first round of the All-American women's open.

This isn't the best she has done competitively. But it made many a masculine pro attempting to qualify in the other section of the $75,000 golf circus look up with awe.

The unheard-of Clark, of Huntington Beach, Calif., led some 250 pros through qualifying trials with a six-under-par 66. The 29-year-old former Marine infantryman who is just starting out as a tourney circuit pro was somewhat dazzled by it all. This is his fourth attempt in the Tam jubilee.

While the women enter their second round of 72 hole medal play today, 50 men pros complete qualifying starting at daybreak, and 150 amateur men start their first round of the three-day traffic jam.

Clark was a stroke ahead of Pete Cooper, Punta Vedra, Fla., among the pro qualifiers. Three posted 65s—Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y.; Herman Krusen, Lima, O., and Glenn Teal, Memphis, Tenn.

Gulliver was a BIG help
If you remember "Gulliver's Travels", you'll recall that the Lilliputians were worried and suspicious about him at first. He was too BIG.
But when he saved them from invasion by stealing the enemy's fleet and towing it to Lilliput, they realized that bigness doesn't mean badness, after all.
America is BIG, Too
America is a big country. American industry is big. Many individual companies are big. Yet there are "lilliputians" who attack all three... on the theory: "If it's big, it must be bad!"
What's Bad About Being Big?
Most of the good things we Americans enjoy have come about because of bigness. Because of the bigness of our business, the bigness of our agriculture, and the bigness of our thinking that has discarded old-world ideas and looked for new and better and bigger ways of doing things.
One of the pet ideas of the "lilliputians" is that, if a company gets big, it must do so at the expense of small business. Nothing could be further from the truth! No big business could exist without the help of thousands of small businesses from whom it buys and to whom it sells. Small business depends on big business the same way.
Business Has a Good War Record
Big and small business together did a job to be proud of in World War II. The combination was unbeatable. And since then, big business has continued to expand—small business to grow rapidly. In fact, the U. S. Department of Commerce calls the last few years "The Golden Age for Small Business!"
They're Still a Good Team
In peace or war, big and little business work well together. Each relies on the other for its raw materials... for outlets for finished products. Each does a specialized job the other one is not geared to do. With evil forces at work in the world today, we all pray for peace. But, come what may, America can always count on American Business... big or small!

21,000 German Police To Train

Guards Will Receive Small Arms Instruction

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The U. S. Army has ordered 21,000 of its German and displaced persons' guards to receive small arms training and to live in barracks.

This was disclosed today by army officials who said that many of the guards already carry small arms.

The officials said the new order has no military significance and resulted from the merger of the army's "industrial police" and labor service companies. This took place on Aug. 1 but no official announcement was made by the army.

Reports of the merger appeared in the German press' however, and today the Communist press was in full cry about the merger.

The Communists charged the guard groups total 180,000 men being molded into a western army. The Communists made no mention of the "people police" in the Soviet zone, which western authorities say constitutes an illegal army of up to 100,000.

Taegle Rundschau, in Berlin, organ of the Soviet Control Commission, called the merger the "reorganization of the American army of mercenaries in connection with the general reorganization of the U. S. Army in western Europe."

Philadelphia Loaded With Scouts' Lizards
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The recent Boy Scout jamboree at nearby Valley Forge left a problem in many Philadelphia area back yards.

Scouts from southwestern states, particularly Texas, brought hundreds of horned lizards—known scientifically as lizards—to the jamboree to swap with other Scouts. Apparently they traded many of them without advising the new owners how to care for the reptiles.

Dozens of the strangers have been sent to the Philadelphia zoo. A few will be kept for exhibition purposes, others shipped to zoos and dealers in climates where they will have a better chance to live.

Polio Victim Awarded Legal Custody Of Son

DES MOINES, Aug. 4.—(AP)—A 26-year-old woman who is in an iron lung in a Des Moines hospital with polio has been awarded temporary custody of her 30-month-old son.

District Judge Tom K. Murrow awarded legal custody yesterday to Mrs. Pauline McEwen pending a hearing of the divorce action she has filed against her husband, David, 27.

The judge ordered that Mrs. McEwen's mother take care of the boy.

Mrs. McEwen was stricken with polio in September of 1948, nine months after her son was born. The couple was married in 1945. She charged that her husband took the child by force July 9 from her sister, Mrs. James Murphy, of Rock Island, Ill., who has been taking care of the child.

Britain Ready To Boost Arms

'Will Need U. S. Help
To Balance Economy

LONDON, Aug. 4 — (AP) — Britain announced last night she is ready to boost her defense spending to $9,520,000,000 over the next three years if America will help her economy absorb the shock.

If agreement with the U. S. can be worked out—and state department officials indicated it could be—Britain will be adding about $616,000,000 a year to her current defense expenditure.

The proposed outlay would be 43 per cent greater than military spending announced before the Korean war started. It would increase from eight to 10 per cent the portion of the national income spent on military preparations against Communism.

The announcement indicated that most of the increase would go for production of new arms and equipment for Atlantic Pact forces.

Britain's offer to enlarge her contributions to western defense came in the form of a memorandum to the United States replying to an American request for such information.

The U. S. had asked all Atlantic pact countries to state by Aug.
5 what they propose to contribute to the west's overall defense program. Holland yesterday announced preparations for standby mobilization of three divisions and measures to speed up defense production.

President Truman told a news conference in Washington last night he was very pleased with Britain's offer. He said he hoped the other Atlantic Pact nations would follow suit.

No One Is Injured In 3 Road Mishaps

No one was injured in three area highway accidents last night, state patrolmen reported today.
At 10:10 p. m. Thursday on Route 14, four miles north of Salem, the car driven by Boyd
Myers, 61, of R. D. 2, Leetonia, collided with the utility trailer pulled by the car operated by Thomas G. Witherow, 21, of Cleveland.

Patrolmen said Witherow swung left of center as he started to make a right turn. Myers, coming in the opposite direction, ran into the trailer. Considerable damage was inflicted to both cars and the trailer was demolished.

Witherow was arrested for driving left of center and cited before Mayor William Unger of Sebring.

The rear of the car driven by Harold B. Riedy, 32, of Oshkosh,
Wis. and the front of the car operated by John J. Stewart, 33, of Detroit were damaged at 6
Thursday on Route 30, 1½ miles west of Lisbon. Patrolmen said
Riedy slowed for traffic when Stewart ran into the back of the preceding car.

A house trailer was badly damaged in an accident at 2:15 a. m.
today on Route 14, four miles east of Columbiana.

Alan E. Rowland, 20, of R. D.
5, New Waterford, was driving west in his pick-up truck when he fell asleep, according to patrolmen, and sideswiped the oncoming house trailer which was pulled by the car operated by Harry C. Hastings, 45, of Eatontown, N. J.

REDS ATTACK NEW YANK LINE—North Korean Communists have smashed in force at the southern end of Americans' new "no retreat" line (heavy black line on map), which runs from southeast of Andong (1) due south. Biggest Red threat seemed to be building on the south coast plains, which stretch 20 miles south to the sea from the point where the Nakdong River swings east toward Pusan. In that sector, the U. S. tank-led counter attack slugged back east of Chinju (2) as Reds reportedly drove within four miles of Masan (3). On the east coast, South Koreans, aided by Allied naval bombardment, recaptured Yongdok (4) and fought to seize high ground north of the city.

of the auto.

for personal injuries and damages in an action filed against result of a car accident on Route

7 in Jefferson County January 26.

2nd Division Sergeant Finds Korea Unchanged

A SOUTH KOREAN PORT,
Aug. 4—(AP)—M/Sgt. Andrew Prevusnak's second landing on

Eight years ago Prevusnak, of war of the Japanese. He had been captured on Bataan in the

Today he went ashore with his
